

Nostalgia kits continued from inside:

Remembering Train Rides

For those who remember when people usually traveled on trains instead of planes, the special features of this kit include train menus, railroad schedules, jokes, and a skit called "When is the Train Due?"

Mini-kits

Mini-kits prompt the same remembering as the complete Bi-Folkal (Nostalgia) kits, but they are designed for a shorter program series. You'll still find a media presentation and a leader's guide stuffed with program ideas and discussion topics. Arrowhead Library System has eleven Mini-kits:

- Valentine Greetings
- St. Patrick's Day
- Arbor Day
- Mothers
- Fathers
- Halloween
- Thanksgiving
- Christmas Decorations
- Winter Snow and Ice
- My Favorite Toy
- Advertisements

For more information or to view a kit, contact your local library or Arrowhead Library System, 210 Dodge Street, Janesville, WI 53548. 608-758-6690

January 2005

 Mini-kits

Nostalgia Kits

For nursing homes, senior centers,
schools,
clubs and
community groups.

A great tool for activity directors.

Multimedia programs that stimulate memories and enhance the well-being of individuals. Available through your Rock County Public Library.

Bringing back old memories and creating new ones with Nostalgia Kits.

These kits, designed by Bi-Folkal Productions, Inc., enhance the well-being of elderly persons by providing stimulating creative programs..

The programs are versatile and can be used with groups of older people, young people and mixed age groups.

The self-contained programs include slide/tape presentations, poems, songs, and skits in large-print; memorabilia, program manuals and bibliographies. Ideas for further programming are included.

Remembering Farm Days

This includes information on threshing, going to town on Saturday night, and winter wash days, the special features of this kit include historic photographs of dairying, barn dance tunes and seeds to identify.

Remembering the Fashion

Raccoon coats and crinolines, ducktails and bobs, the special features of this kit include a quiz on fashionable terms over the years, a skit, sing-a-long songs and stories for discussion

Remembering Birthdays

Birthday songs, celebrations, poems and wishes. Includes scented packages, astrological profiles and four short skits about birthdays.

Remembering Summertime

The front porch swing, sandlot baseball and concerts in the park. The skit is called "The Vacation", also includes baseball cards, and a list of inventions to make summer more comfortable.

Remembering the Home Front

Saving fuel and rubber, rolling bandages and listening to "Your Hit Parade". Wartime paraphernalia, ration stamps and a skit called "Don't You Know There's a War On?"

Remembering the Work Life

For those who remember that first job, the early morning call to work and the tools of the trades, the special features of this kit include a timeline of world and work events, the songs of working people and three skits featuring conversations about work.

Remembering the Automobiles

Tin Lizzies, rumble seats and Burma Shave jingles, the special features of this kit are recorded automobile sounds, a Model A hubcap, and a skit called "You Can't Miss It!"

Remembering 1924

Bathtub gin, Babe Ruth, and silk stockings. This kit includes jokes, a dictionary of jazz age slang, and a 1924 price list.

Remembering the School Days

Walking two miles to school carrying a lard pail lunch, the special feature here includes a "Remember Schoolbooks" booklet, a skit called "The Unwilling Student", and schoolhouse memorabilia

Remembering the Depression

For those who remember Black Tuesday, dustbowl farms and union struggles, the special features of this kit include "Words from the Depression" booklet, Colliergraphs, and a skit called "The Merger".

Remembering County Fairs

Kewpie dolls, freak show and "meet Me in St. Louis, Louis," the special features of this kit include a poster, ribbons, and "An Aromatic Adventure at the Fair" sniff set.

Remembering the Fall

Hunting, football, hayrides and harvest - this kit has a map of the best fall color areas, new fall styles in 1927 Sears Roebuck catalog, and fall songs, poems and a skit.

Continued on back